£15M AXE TO YOUR SERVICES

THE DEPUTY leader of Medway council has revealed it is inevitable key services will have to be cut so the council can save a staggering of £15 million.

Councillor Alan Jarrett said the council faces "a real challenge" in clawing back a £6.4m overspend this year and dealing with an expected £9m cut in government funding next year.

Mr Jarrett told Yourmedway: "We have taken and must continue to take stringent measures to bring the budget into line, which has meant cutting temporary staff, not filling vacant posts and stopping spending wherever possible."

Services that have already been slashed include Medway's leisure and crèche facilities, while mental health, children's and community services are all currently under review.

Mr Jarrett blamed the cutbacks on the Government's "miserly" comprehensive spending review, which sets out the pot of money available to local authorities for the next three years.

Although Medway will only find out its precise share in December, the deputy leader said he expects the budget to be lower than its current annual allocation of £71m.

He said: We are determined to protect services to the most vulnerable in our society – older people, children and people with disabilities."

Hoo will pay high costs of eco protest?

■ BY JON COATES

THE COST of Greenpeace's two-day protest at Kingsnorth power station could rise to more than £100,000.

The eco-campaigners caused more than £20,000 damage to the Hoo plant's 200-metre chimney after scaling it and daubing 'Gordon' in giant white letters down its side.

A police spokesman said the 36-hour protest cost the force £32,000 – but this does not include the cost of scrambling the Kent police helicopter.

Activists chained themselves to high-tech machinery inside the power station, but the damage this caused has yet to be calculated.

More than 60 eco-campaigners took over the station on the morning of October 8 in protest against plans to build a new generation coal-fired plant on the 72-acre site.

Eighteen protestors brought the plant's conveyor belt system to a halt and tied themselves to the equipment, preventing coal from reaching the giant furnace. Then a five-man climbing crew set about scaling the chimney, armed with ropes and paint.

The chain gang – made up of 12 men and six women – were all arrested on Monday evening on suspicion of aggravated trespass. Three of the 18 were also charged with criminal damage.

The climbers – who spent the night on top of the chimney – gave themselves up on Tuesday, after the plant's owners E.ON served Greenpeace with a High Court injunction.

Four men, aged 28, 33, 40 and 43, and a 33-year-old woman were arrested on suspicion of aggravated trespass and criminal damage.

A 47-year-old Greenpeace activist was also arrested outside the station's main gates on suspicion of conspiracy to cause criminal damage.

The 24 campaigners have all been bailed pending the Crown Prosecution Service's decision on whether to prosecute.

Chief Inspector Des Keers, who was on site throughout the protest, said: "Clearly a power station can be a hazardous environment and I am pleased we managed to resolve the matter without anyone being injured."

The plans for a new plant are with Medway council. If rejected a public inquiry will be held before the Environment Minister makes a ruling.

MEDWAY council has bowed to public demand by re-opening the Sir John Hawkins Way flyover in Chatham town centre.

The U-turn comes after hundreds of traders, shoppers and residents slammed the council's decision to close the flyover when Chatham's ring-road was switched to two-way operation last year.

It is hoped the temporary re-opening will help ease congestion.

Service cutbacks as council claws back on spending

'Serious decisions' needed on cash

EXCLUSIVE

BY SIMON ROBINSON

MEDWAY council chiefs were expected to announce a wave of further cutbacks across its services yesterday in a bid to get back a projected £6.4 million overspend.

Cabinet members met on Tuesday for an update on the range of spending savings made since the worrying year-end deficit was forecasted earlier this year.

The success of cutbacks made or planned in children's and community services, regeneration and development, business support and corporate provisions as well as a recruitment freeze were due to be discussed.

It was hoped that these measures, along with the axing of 32 temporary staff, a recruitment freeze, slashed crèche facilities and proposals to cut leisure services, could have almost halved the overspend – taking it down to £3.6 million.

The council's deputy leader Alan Jarrett said further savings would have to be made to close the remaining gap.

He said: "We have taken, and must continue to take, stringent measures to bring the budget into line which has meant cutting temporary staff, not filling vacant posts and stopping spending wherever possible."

Immediate savings could be made by investing in in-house foster placements and through restructuring library services, while in the medium term changes in legal costs, adult education and housing services may yield results.

Mr Jarrett warned that even if the £6.4 million overspend was avoided, next year's budget would prove equally, if not more, difficult to manage.

He said: "Our funding settlement this year had a reduction by government of £4.5 million before the year even began and we are not expecting any better news in terms of our future funding.

"Even when we get past this year's overspend we still face a really big problem in next year's budget."

"The government's comprehensive spending review is pretty miserly and leaves us with a real challenge."

Continuing his campaign for a fair funding deal the deputy leader said: "We are battling to protect front-line services in the face of unrealistic funding from government."

"We have been able to protect these services up until now but we are facing some really difficult decisions."

"We must defend the services we are legally bound to provide to the most vulnerable in our society – the elderly, children and people with disabilities – but there are many other services that are also important to our residents which may have to be cut."

Parking warden slammed for footie fans' fines

COUNCIL chiefs have been forced to apologise after traffic wardens slapped tickets on 20 cars parked on a grass verge near a football match – but left 10 vehicles untouched.

The cars belonged to some of the 6,000 fans watching Gillingham play Millwall at the Priestfield Stadium on Saturday Lunchtime.

Families living in Beechings Way, were stunned to see wardens punish 20 motorists in a row for parking on a grass verge, only to let the next 10 drivers parked on the same stretch of land off scot free.

A middle-aged man, who did not wish to be named, said: "I was completely gobsmacked. I saw the warden issuing tickets to each car as he went down the road towards Twydall and assumed he'd dish the fines out to all the 30 or so cars parked on the grass."

"With about 10 to go he just stopped and walked away. I couldn't believe it."

"I went outside my house and asked him why he wasn't going to give a ticket to the other cars but he just shrugged his shoulders and grunted something before getting in his car and driving off."

"If my car was one of those to get a ticket I'd be furious."

The tickets were issued on Saturday at 1pm, while the drivers were among the 6,000 supporters taking in the Gills' match against the Lions in the League One home match.

Medway council spokeswoman Laura Patrick apologised for the error saying: "Verge parking in Beechings Way has only become enforceable in the last fortnight."

"Unfortunately, there was a slight misunderstanding by some of our wardens as to where the enforcement zone extends to."

"The wardens have been briefed and will issue tickets to all vehicles parked on the grass verges in Beechings Way in future."

Teen takes Special World Games by storm

Victoria's Olympic medal haul

■ BY SIMON ROBINSON

A GYMNAST who was the world's smallest baby to survive a premature birth has collected gold and three bronze medals at the Special Olympics.

Victoria Loftus, 15, put in a near flawless display in the vault on the final day of the World Summer Games in Shanghai, China.

The Team GB star, from Chatham, also picked up a bronze medal in each of the three other events in which she competed – floor, beam and bars.

Her proud mother, Sue Mackey, said: "I've always been extremely proud of Victoria, but words cannot express what a joy it is to be able to say she is now a world champion gymnast."

"Her bars, beam and vault were the best I've ever seen them. She performed without a nerve in sight and positively embraced the experience."

Victoria was born three months premature, measuring just 10 inches and weighing 1lb 4oz. At the time she was the smallest baby in the world to survive such an early birth.

She spent the first four-and-a-half months of her life in the special care baby unit of the former All Saints Hospital and has been left with learning difficulties and a hearing impairment.

Both conditions affect her listening and communication skills, forcing her to concentrate and practice twice as hard to learn, master and memorise complex gymnastic routines.

Miss Mackey said: "We're fantastically proud of Victoria as she's come so far from when she was born. She trains so hard, putting in 13 hours a week and sometimes training as soon as she gets in from school and it's all paid off."

"When she competed in the classification events she did extremely well, scoring a fantastic 9.7 out of 10."

"When her score flashed up on the board the

GOLDEN GIRL: Victoria Loftus has to train twice as hard to memorise complex gymnastic routines whole stadium erupted into cheers.

"She gained marks at the high ends of the eights for the floor, beam and bars and so was put in to the top classification for her level, which meant she had very tough competition from the Chinese, Japanese and Russians."

"When she did the finals she competed very consistently but once again, the other gymnasts also performed without fault, so I was delighted she managed to win the gold for the vault and three bronzes for beam, bars and the all-round."

Victoria was among 7,500 athletes taking part in the week-long Games.

Death Valley Jack's hallucination

AN amazing video uploaded Jack Denness from Rochester who ran in 120 degree heat to raise money for a cerebral palsy charity. He is the first 70 year old to complete the gruelling race.

He explains: "This video tells of my best hallucinations in the 135-mile footrace across Death Valley, USA. All competitors race with temperatures of 120F daytime, but a bit cooler at night ... around 90F."

"I always raise funds for worthy charities in ultra events, as the video points out my next ultra is in Egypt called Trans 333KM, it's 208 miles across the Libya Desert, again very tough, but I'm raising funds for the Cerebral Palsy Care Centre at Cliffe Woods who have to raise £200,000 per year to maintain a vital service to our community for sufferers of cerebral palsy.

"Please help by donating on my fundraising page which is very safe and secure – www.just-giving.com/jackinegypt4cerebralpalsy. All the expenses for these events I enter comes out of my own pocket, so all cash raised goes direct to cerebral palsy."

"If you don't like to donate online then feel free to post to my home address: JE Denness, 24 Canon Close, Rochester Kent ME1 3EN. Cheques payable: Cerebral Palsy."

'LEADING-EDGE OPPORTUNITY': The new co-educational academy would be on the Chapter Girls' School site

Have a say on schools merger

A SERIES of meetings are being held to allow people to air their views on the controversial proposed merger of two schools.

The open discussions have been set up by Medway council following its decision to back plans to form a co-educational academy by joining the high-achieving Chapter Girls' School with the struggling Temple Boys' School in Strood.

There will be seven meetings from October 29 until November 19 to make sure everyone gets the chance to have their say.

Council chiefs said the £25 million vocational academy – a first for Medway – would improve school standards.

The new school would be based on the Chapter School site and take 240 students each year, between 1,400 and 1,600 pupils in total, opening for the start of the academic year in September, 2009.

Medway council's children's services director Rose Collinson said: "We would like everyone to tell us what they think about the proposals and how we can best provide leading-edge educational opportunities for boys and girls in Strood that reflect the aspirations of students, their parents and the wider community."

■ BY SIMON ROBINSON

The proposed merger aims to tackle concerns over the standard of education and popularity of Temple School.

Just two per cent of students achieved five A* to C grades at GCSE in 2006 – the worst results in the country.

In the last two years, only about 60 pupils have joined the school at the age of 11, only a third of its maximum intake.

Chapter School is a successful business and enterprise college, which is popular and has been oversubscribed for the last few years.

The public meetings will take place at Wainscott Primary School on Monday, October 29; the Civic Centre, Strood, on Tuesday, November 6; Bligh Junior School, Strood, on Wednesday, November 7; Gordon Junior School, Strood, on Thursday, November 8; Chapter School on Wednesday, November 14; Sherwin Knight Junior School, Strood, on Thursday, November 15; and Temple School on Monday, November 19.

Three public meetings about the proposed merger have already been held during the last week.

For more information go online at www.medway.gov.uk/stroodschoools.

Fundraisers take the nuclear option

Thrill seekers bid online for the chance to navigate down the side of HMS Ocelot, with the 20 most generous bidders going over from the top of the nuclear submarine – 65ft above the ground. The abseil was carried out on behalf of the Kent and Medway Walking Bus and Medway Cerebral Palsy unit.

Suspended sentence for junkie repeat shoplifter

A SERIAL shoplifter was handed an 18-month suspended sentence after targeting four supermarkets in as many months.

Dion McCarry, 23, of Forest Lodge, Meadow Crescent, Rochester, made off with more than £150 of goods from stores across Medway between June and September.

McCarry, who is addicted to opiates and cocaine, started his crime spree by stealing £5 of chicken from Co-op in Gillingham. He then took £50 of groceries from Co-op in Chatham and £60 of toiletries from Tesco's in Gravesend on the same day, before walking out of Tesco Express in Gillingham with £42 of meat.

McCarry also stole £20 from a woman's handbag after she let him inside her home.

Magistrates gave McCarry a 90-day custodial sentence, suspended for 18 months and an 18-month supervision order at a hearing at Medway Magistrates' Court on Thursday.

They also ordered him to pay £20 in compensation to the victim and £60 in costs.

McCarry will return to court on November 8 for a review of his drug rehabilitation order.

Do you have an empty building for armed cops?

FIREARMS officers are looking for empty buildings to practice hostage rescue and other physical training exercises.

Kent police train armed officers in empty houses, warehouses, schools and hospitals. Some training involves smashing windows and breaking down doors and walls.

PC Timothy Ryton said: "We regularly use vacant buildings and have to look for a property for our next training session on Monday, October 29."

Buildings due for refurbishment are particularly suitable.

If you would like to volunteer a property, contact PC Timothy Ryton on 01622 654878.

The bins have been placed at Hoo Village hall, Hoo; Balmoral Gardens, Gillingham; Parkwood Green car park, off Deanwood Drive, Gillingham; Union Street car park, Rochester; and Strood Sports Centre car park.

The thief stole the 67-year-old's grey Rover 416 last month. It has since been spotted in Medway, Canterbury and Beltinge.

The incident took place at 5.30pm on Thursday, September 27 in East Street, Sittingbourne.

The man wore a dark-coloured jacket, is in his 20s, of medium build, has short dark wavy hair and a clear complexion.

Litterbugs hit with fines

MORE than 100 people have been hit with £80 fines since after being caught dropping rubbish in the street.

QUESTION & ANSWER

MARK HARRINGTON

QA

Q How long have you lived in Swale and what first attracted you to the area?

A Although I was born in Chester I have lived in the Sittingbourne area since I was five years old, so 42 years! My father was a research scientist at Shell research, now Kent Science Park, and his job moved from Chester to Sittingbourne. I attended Borden Grammar School and later the University of Kent at Canterbury to study Law, before going to London to qualify as a barrister.

Q What don't you like about Swale and what can be done to change this?

A Swale is changing fast and the pressure of development into formally green pastures and orchards is something we are likely to regret in the long term. A more developed town centre with a greater choice of shopping should remain the focus.

Q What do you like best about living in the area?

A I now live in Rodmersham Green, which is a particularly beautiful village, just south of Sittingbourne. It has a great village pub the Fruiterers, where I met my wife, an excellent local school, and a vibrant village shop.

Q Where are your favourite places in the region? Where would you recommend visitors to see?

A We live nearby Cromers Wood where I often walk with my family and our labrador Milly, and from the village shop there are many local walks to Lysted and beyond through woods and orchards which during any time of the year reveal the beauty of the Kent countryside.

Q How long have you worked in Medway and what brought you to the area?

A I joined the Crown Prosecution Service in 1991 and have never regretted it. One of my first areas was Medway. Having served in Gravesend and Folkestone, I returned to Medway as the district crown prosecutor about six years ago and have done my best to maintain a high profile in the area, working with community groups and attending many local functions outside of court and office times.

Q Tell us about your work in the region?

A This positive working relationship with community groups and our criminal justice partners has been a huge influence on my role as the CPS hate crime co-ordinator for the county and has informed our work setting up our hate crime scrutiny panel. The CPS is responsible for prosecuting criminal cases investigated by the police. My team and I work very closely with the police to ensure we build strong cases from the outset and we all take great pride in doing everything we can to support victims of crime through the process. We prosecute cases in all the courts and we take cases from their original advice stage all the way to jury trials in the crown court.

Q What are the main challenges for Medway in the future and how can these be tackled?

A Despite the considerable challenges Medway and Swale have had over the years the quality of the people remains. There is a strong and tolerant community and it remains a very safe place to live and work.

Q Where does the Crown Prosecution Service fit into improving Medway as a place for people to live and work?

A The criminal justice system is one of our major public services. As part of this the CPS has a full part to play in improving the delivery of justice, improving the service provided to victims and witnesses and improving public confidence in the system.

Q Does your work as a prosecutor affect the way you look at where you live and work?

A As a public prosecutor I see the worst of people's behaviour, but I know this does not represent the vast majority of us who want and deserve to not only feel safe but are increasingly safe with the actions and support of the criminal justice system. I am very proud of what we do in the CPS and, with the support of the public, by seeing cases through we will all achieve a greater sense of justice and security.

As Medway's District Crown Prosecutor, Mark Harrington talks to JON COATES about his views on Medway and the benefits of getting involved with community groups and supporting victims of crime

Trust's new treatment for a common disorder

MENTAL illness affects one in four people at some point in their lives, but often sufferers are written off or ignored by wider society.

But Kent and Medway director of mental health David Tamsitt aims to change that, and his team are spearheading a new, positive approach, focusing not just on treatment, but on fighting the stigma attached to mental illness and helping people cope with their problems as part of society.

Mr Tamsitt said: "Before, we have had a mainly biochemical approach to mental illness. We don't want to do away with traditional psychiatry, but we also want to focus on people's positive aspects, to help them move forward in their lives and maybe re-engage with jobs and relationships.

"There is a stigma attached. People have a fear of mental illness, whereas they are maybe more able to cope with a physical problem."

To make this possible, the trust is helping people stay in their own homes while coping with their illness by providing intensive home treatment. This takes the services to the patients, which include visits from psychiatrists and pharmacists, as well as carers.

Budget

Mr Tamsitt said: "Dementia patients often get more disorientated if they are moved to a different location. If we can treat them at home, the outcomes are often much more satisfactory."

Mr Tamsitt has lived and worked in Kent all his life, starting out as a psychiatric nurse at St Augustine's Hospital in Chartham.

He said: "My father was a psychiatric nurse at the old St Augustine's Hospital, so I was exposed to it from a very early age. When I left school I didn't know which career I wanted to go in to and I'd done some casual work there, so it just happened from there."

Working his way up through the health service, Mr Tamsitt has seen attitudes to mental illness change over the years, but still maintains there is a long way to go.

■ BY GARETH ARNOLD

He said: "If you go back to when my career started, the whole attitude was that mental health was out of sight and out of mind. That has no place in today's society."

"People are still very concerned about talking about their experiences of mental health and its treatment. There is still a stigma attached to mental health problems, although some celebrity sufferers have started speaking out. Stephen Fry is a good example, he said he suffered from bi-polar disorder, but still managed to lead a normal life."

Kent and Medway Trust, which is responsible for the well being of more than 700,000 people and commands a budget of £46 million, is set to play a leading role in changing society's perception of mental illness as it applies for foundation status.

Instead of being issued funds from the Strategic Health Authority, foundation status would give the trust control over its budget and direction, not only from the top down.

Mr Tamsitt explained that patients and staff would elect a board of governors, and have a say in how money was spent. It would free the trust to explore new treatments and technologies, without having to comply so strictly with edicts from central government.

He said: "It is more democratic. If people want to get involved in running their mental health trust, they can."

If the application is successful, Kent and Medway Trust, one of the largest trusts in the country employing 12,000 staff, will become the first in the county to achieve foundation status.

In January, the trust is planning a series of roadshows aimed at finding out what people want from the service and to explain more about foundation status.

Mr Tamsitt said: "We are interested to hear from minority and hard-to-reach groups, and listen to what they want from the service."

FORWARD-THINKING: Kent and Medway director of mental health David Tamsitt is targeting the public's misconception

Fallout activities to beat off the autumn blues

A HOST of fun-packed workshops will take place at the Brook Theatre to help youngsters beat the autumn-break blues.

The week-long Fallout festival boasts arts and crafts activities, African drumming, spooky stories and even some high-kicking martial arts.

First up is a one-day creepy crawlies workshop at the Chatham theatre on Tuesday, October 23, giving youngsters aged eight to 12 the chance to create and decorate a giant paper mache spider as well as make their own bug to take home.

The beat of the African drums will be heard at the theatre the following day, with a Lindy Hop dance class being held on Thursday, October 25.

The Fallout programme will be brought to a close on Friday with a half-day dance, music and martial arts Capoeira workshop in the morning and a spooky stories arts and craft event in the afternoon.

For more information on the programme and a free brochure, call 01634 338319.

Little monsters' scary fun at shopping mall

A GHOULISH ghost hunt, witch's cat hunt and a spooky arts and crafts session are among the creepy Halloween activities on offer at Bluewater this half term.

The shopping centre will host daily Kids' Zones from Monday, October 22, to Sunday, 28, giving youngsters a number of grim games to keep them entertained.

Would-be wizards and witches can have their faces painted with Halloween-themed looks, create spooky masks and make eerie decorations between noon-5pm each day.

Ghostbusters up to the age of 12 can also hit the ghost trail, tracking down six apparitions on the loose in the centre in order to win a prize.

Horror readings – including frightfully fun activities and creepy tales – will keep the little monsters on the edge of their seats in Waterstone's at 5pm on Monday.

Thursday's treat is a children's Halloween party at John Lewis's the Place to Eat from 3pm, at a cost of £3 each. Wanda the Witch will be looking for help at 5pm in the store's toy department the following day.

Poor Wanda has lost her naughty cats, which are hiding around the store. The hunt continues over the whole weekend.

Each week we get a mystery writer to air their views on living in Medway...

State-of-the-art protestors do get their message across

I ALWAYS thought the stereotypical pressure group campaigner fitted snugly into one of two descriptions, both as useless as the other.

There was Tristan – a dreadlocked gap year student who was so passionate about saving the whale/polar ice caps/planet he decided to give up everything good in his life (part-time job, meat, brand-name goods, washing and so forth).

Tristan and his loyal band of young eco-warriors would hang around town centres and high streets all day in brightly-coloured bibs harassing shoppers and people on their lunch break for money.

The result? The once pleasant stroll from office to Boots/Marks and Spencer and back turned into a daily gauntlet, forcing hungry workers to zigzag down the high street trying desperately to avoid making eye contact with Tristan et al in order to pick up a sarnie.

Then there was Roger – a middle-aged, middle-England activist, who grew so passionately about his precious pressure group that his life and his cause gradually became one and the same.

It's OK to want to save the dolphins, Roger. It becomes weird, though, when you constantly wear your hand-knitted dolphin jumper, have 450 framed pictures of dolphins hanging in your front room, are known around town as 'that dolphin guy' and have a porpoise pal in your bath tub. But it seems those days are gone.

I think last week's meticulously-planned protest at Kingsnorth power station, carried out by passionate Greenpeace campaigners, actually stands a chance of making a difference.

Petitions are great – and have their place – but I feel you've got to do something, and do it well, to gain the respect and attention you need to instigate change.

Climbing up a chimney or chaining yourself to some machinery is nothing new, but by kitting themselves out in high-tech equipment I think the protestors have sent a powerful message to Mr Brown.

It seems the protestors were fully kitted out with mobile phone, cameras and lap-tops, giving a constant stream of updates and pictures from inside the power station to the countless TV crews and journalists waiting outside.

Their meticulous operation should be applauded by any one who does care.

By toughening up and taking risks, these protestors may actually kick up enough of a stink over the plans for a new coal-fired plant that the powers that be may have no option but to throw them out, something a petition on its own would not have achieved.

I think more protestors should follow Greenpeace's lead. The general public would have more time for pressure groups such as Fathers-4-Justice if they spent more time on serious, well-planned campaigns like this one and less time dressing up as Batman.

Let's just hope Gordon Brown does the right thing now and bin those plans for the coal power plant.

BILL ESTERSON

The Labour councillor for River ward tells us about representing the area and his life in Medway

What is your background and what does your job entail?

I trained as an accountant and have run a successful customer service training company for the last 10 years. I was born in Rochester, attended three schools in Medway and have lived here all of my life. I've been a councillor for 12 years and help my constituents with issues from graffiti in Brompton to campaigning to re-open the flyover in Chatham to working closely with our excellent neighbourhood police and community support officers. I am also the Labour group spokesman on children services, which means scrutinising the Tories management of schools. Recent issues have been the lack of consultation on the connexions service for young people and the proposals to create an academy in Strood.

What are your favourite aspects in terms of representing River ward and what initiatives are you currently working on?

Working with local people to improve the services they receive from the council and other agencies, fighting campaigns such as the one to save Brompton post office from closure and helping make the streets safer by building the relationships between people and the neighbourhood police team. Making a difference to one person is very rewarding. For example an elderly resident in Brompton was waiting for a new sink for his bathroom. Knowing that he would be able to use his bathroom because the sink had been fitted was very rewarding. There is a bid for World Heritage status for the dockyard and Brompton. This will help to put Medway on the map. As the ward councillor I am very proud to be involved. I also work closely with Project Reignite in the Brook Lines neighbourhood in Chatham. This helps local people with training and advice and is a very good example of drawing the community together.

YOUR LETTERS

Thank goodness someone cares

Well done to those crazy kids who make up the main part of Greenpeace. Their efforts at Kingsnorth Power Station deserve recognition.

It doesn't matter whether they are right or wrong or whether you agree or disagree with their protest... the fact they did it is admirable.

In an increasingly indifferent world where everyone seems to think the future is somebody else's problem, it is great that some people do care enough to do something.

Of course they are right, we should be looking at other ways of producing energy more cleanly and no amount of FA Cup sponsorship or building wildlife reserves can actually disguise that fact.

But so long as the Chinese keep building a new coal-fired power station every 10 minutes, or however often it is, then our

Protestors raise security concern

I was appalled that Greenpeace protestors found it so easy to get into the Kingsnorth site. What if they had been terrorists? What would the police have done then?

I hope everyone will review their security procedures as a result of this.

Tory activist let loose on the newspaper

Which Tory activist wrote your mystery blogger last week? Surely you shouldn't allow just anyone to have access to your new newspaper?

That person may have left the Conservative party conference "on a high and ready to fight a General Election". Well that was a waste of energy for him (or her) wasn't it?

Campaigning for our post offices

Brompton Conservation Association and other local residents this week launched a campaign to save Brompton post office, which is threatened with closure by the Royal Mail.

A petition was signed by 700 people in just six hours and handed to the Mayor of Medway at the full meeting of Medway council.

Signatures are still being collected. Brompton Conservation Association chairman John Jones and Brompton traders have also met with Paul Clark, MP for Gillingham, and were assured of his support with the campaign. Paul has pledged to lobby the Post Office to save Brompton from closure. Bob Marshall-Andrews and Jonathan Shaw are also supporting the campaign.

Medway council will consider the issue at the community services overview and scrutiny meeting on October 30 at 7pm at the civic centre in Strood, following a request by Labour spokesman Councillor Teresa Murray.

The Post Office is holding a consultation which continues until November 12. Please write to:

Gary Herbert, Network Development Manager, Post Office Ltd, c/o National Consultation Team, FREEPOST CONSULTATION TEAM.

It is important to stress how well used the post office is by local people and by those from further afield. The aim of the campaign is to demonstrate an overwhelming case for retaining Brompton post office.

Here are some of the reasons which you should consider in your letter to the Royal Mail.

We must tell the Post Office that it has made a mistake in Brompton and should never have even considered closure for such a well used post office at the heart of the community.

Brompton has many elderly people who rely on the post office and would struggle to get to Gillingham or Chatham. Similarly there are many single-parent families who use the Post Office and many army families who rely on the post office to contact family members serving overseas.

Nearly 20,000 people live within a mile of Brompton post office and it is regularly used by residents from St Mary's Island, Chatham historic dockyard, New Brompton, Old Brompton and Melville Court as well as those stationed at the barracks and in army quarters on The Lines. It is also used by businesses from Chatham Maritime, the dockyard, by the university, by students and by local traders. People travel from Strood and from the Hoo peninsula to use Brompton post office and it is far more convenient than those in our town centres. There is massive regeneration happening in Chatham Maritime and rapid expansion of the universities as well as the imminent move of Mid Kent College to the Lower Lines. The demand for the services at Brompton is therefore set to grow significantly, not least with the move of Medway council to Gun Wharf.

Brompton is part of the world heritage site bid and closure of the post office would rip the heart out of Brompton, with disastrous implications for other traders in the high street. This would be bound to affect the bid for heritage status.

This is a well used and successful post office which should be encouraged to offer additional services.

The Brompton Conservation Association is co-ordinating the campaign, so please send a copy of your letter to the Post Office to their chairman, John Jones at 16 Prospect Row, Brompton. You can speak to John on 07886 601725.

The campaign to save Brompton Post Office is especially important now that the council is moving its offices to Dock Road.

Have you heard the one about the Irishman who took to comedy to overcome shyness?

Stand-up routine therapy for Ardal

FANS of the cult comedy series Father Ted will be pleased to hear that Ardal O'Hanlon is coming to Canterbury.

The Irish funnyman, 42, shot to fame as the endearingly gormless Father Dougal McGuire in the hit Channel 4 programme.

Audiences at his new stand-up show will see a similar persona to the naïve priest, but with the extra edge that comes with age.

"I'm a bit more manic than people are used to," he said. "Basically, it's a 40-year-old man having a rant about things that annoy him. But you can't stand still in comedy, you have to keep moving forward."

Getting on stage and trying to make a roomful of strangers laugh sounds like an extreme way to combat shyness. But for O'Hanlon, it was a way of breaking the chains of chronic nervousness.

He said: "I was very shy when I was younger, but stand-up was a way of expressing myself and making myself heard."

"There are lots of ways to confront fear and this had a lot of potential. I've always lived in fear, whether it's worrying about war or thinking there's a poltergeist in my house."

He was already enjoying a successful stand-up career before his big break came along in 1995, having picked up the Hackney Empire New Act of the Year Award in 1994.

But the critical acclaim and level of affection off-beat Father Ted attracted took the whole cast by surprise.

"It wasn't a gamble for me, because being asked to do anything on television was great," he said. "None of us had any hopes for Father Ted really. I was very surprised at how much people loved it, but it was fresh and different. It was something that we were all very proud of."

After leaving university, O'Hanlon was inspired by the alternative comedy scene in Britain and decided to set up the celebrated Comedy Cellar Club in Dublin.

But he was forced to move to London to pursue his career and escape the scrutiny that came with being the son of a prominent Irish politician.

His success in Father Ted opened the door for more opportunities, including the lead role in the BBC sitcom My Hero.

"My Hero was what it was," he said with honesty. "I really liked the cast and the idea, but after five series I felt a bit trapped."

"It wasn't challenging any more, so I wanted to do other things and concentrate on stand-up."

Despite his success as an actor, stand-up has always been O'Hanlon's focus. Originally destined to be a writer or journalist, he found a freedom in stand-up which he describes as "liberating".

He said: "It's my favourite form of comedy because it's so personal and I'm not doing other people's material. That's what makes it so special. Comedians need to be original and have their own voice."

"Doing shocking stuff just for the sake of it doesn't interest me. I just try to wrong-foot the audience and make them giddy. I want to surprise and delight them."

Ardal O'Hanlon will be appearing at the Marlowe Theatre in Canterbury at 7.30pm on Wednesday, October 24. The show is recommended for people aged 15 and above.

Tickets cost £17.50/£15.50. To book, call the box office on 01227 787787 or visit the website at www.marlowetheatre.com.

After receiving critical acclaim for her performances in West End shows such as Dusty Springfield and Boy George's Taboo, Wilson is following a more jazz route. Whatever the style, she promises a great evening of musical entertainment.

regular slot on cult kids' television show Tiswas.

After a shaky start on the programme, his gift for improvisation opened up a new vein of creativity and Henry's career truly took off.

His success on the 1980s comedy series Three of a Kind led to his own show. In 1991, Henry became the first British comic to film a stand-up comedy movie.

In his new show, the accomplished actor and singer will deliver an electrifying mix of stand-up and character comedy.

Tickets for the gig, which starts at 7.45pm, cost £22.50. To book, call the box office on 01322 220000 or visit the website at www.orchardtheatre.co.uk.

MR BROOKS (18)

KEVIN Costner stars as Earl Brooks, a man who has managed to keep his two incompatible worlds from crossing by controlling his cunning alter ego. Neither his wife or daughter could conceive of the truth, but as Mr Brooks succumbs to one more murderous urge, an amateur photographer witnesses the crime. Now, a terrifying game is unfolding where desire is dark and knowledge is deadly.

RATATOUILLE (U)

THE word 'masterpiece' is overused, but in the case of the computer-animated wizardry of Pixar, no other word will suffice. Director Brad Bird delivers a glorious modern-day fable about a diminutive hero who dares to pursue his life-long ambition in Paris. Vocal performances are strong, from Peter O'Toole's oily reviewer with a penchant for caustic critique, to Patton Oswalt's loveable fur-ball.

RESIDENT EVIL: EXTINCTION (15)

RESIDENT Evil Extinction has a linear narrative that could have been culled from one of the video games, peppered at regular intervals with digitally-enhanced set pieces. Milla Jovovich's skimpily-clad babe maintains an air of serenity as supporting characters are mown down around her.

Invasion of Nicole's heart

BY EILEEN CONDON

ON the surface she would seem to have it all, but despite beauty, fame, movie success and wealth actress Nicole Kidman admits none of it has protected her from the pain of heartbreak.

In fact, the Oscar-winning actress admits that since separating from ex-husband Tom Cruise she suffered a "deep loneliness".

"There's something about not sharing with someone else, if you don't have a partner, which leaves you feeling very alone," she said.

Not even a stellar career – with movie success in films such as Moulin Rouge!, The Others and her Oscar-winning turn in The Hours – could match her yearning for love.

"I always wanted someone to sweep me off my feet and have children with them," she said. "To me love was more important than my career every time."

Last year, she married country music singer Keith Urban and reveals that although she is already mum to adopted kids Bella, 14, and Connor, 12, she is keen to have more children.

It was those powerful maternal instincts which swayed Nicole towards her latest role in the new movie The Invasion.

The film is an update of Jack Finney's classic 50s sci-fi novel, Invasion Of The Body Snatchers, and stars Nicole as Carol Bennett, a psychiatrist whose world changes forever when the remnants of a space shuttle explosion rain down over the US just as her young son goes missing.

"To me, the crux of the story is this woman's journey in relation to her child," says Nicole.

"The rush of adrenaline that comes with the desire to save this person that you've things have turned out – and reveals that she constantly doubts her acting ability.

"When I first came to America from Australia I remember driving past the Broadway sign and seeing my name and thinking 'Who would think that you could come as far away as Australia and have your name in lights on Broadway?'. They say it can't happen, but it can."

It didn't just happen – it happened big time. The star is now the highest-paid leading lady in Hollywood.

But despite the enviable earning power and pick of the top movie roles, it's clear Nicole would trade it all for what she has now, peace of mind and a happy home life.

"It has been turbulent at times," she said. "But I am peaceful right now and just enjoying that."

Bermuda's bewitching beauty

BY LAURA SCOTT

SILVER-bearded Johnny Barnes has been camping on Bermuda's Crow Lane roundabout for about five hours each weekday for more than 20 years.

The former bus driver has been spreading goodwill by blowing kisses and shouting 'I love you' at passing commuters and tourists since an epiphany in 1983. He makes for a rather curious sight on an upmarket island famed for a certain degree of cool, colonial reserve.

While Johnny is not overly discerning about the objects of his affection, his welcome does sum up the spirit of an island paradise which many travellers instinctively link to garish shorts and disappearing aircraft.

Even Barry Manilow voiced reservations about the Bermuda Triangle and who am I to argue?

Undeterred by the crooner's warblings, I hopped on a Bermuda-bound plane and was soon totally bowled over by this tiny north Atlantic island.

Bermuda has a big advantage over the Caribbean in its proximity to the UK.

You get a Caribbean vibe and sub-tropical temperatures all within a six-and-a-half hour flight from London or a two-hour return trip from New York, if you tack on a shopping spree in the Big Apple to cash in on the cheap dollar. It's easy to see why the rich and famous and lucky holidaymakers are bewitched by Bermuda.

PARADISE: Bermuda is a chain of seven main islands

Pretty houses sugar-coated in shades of mint green, powder blue and lemon yellow nestle among lush green palms, their white lime-washed rooftops – to purify rain for drinking water – glinting in the sunshine.

The slightly cooler months from November to March make up the golf and spa season.

Bermuda's hotter season – beach and sizzle – runs from April to October, and is the best time to experience the island's famed pink sand beaches, tinged that dusky rose colour from flecks of purplish coral.

Popular Horseshoe Bay is vaunted as one of the top 10 beaches in the world.

Sea-lovers are offered a plethora of water sports from wind-surfing to jet-skiing, glass bottomed boat tours and swimming with dolphins – but where the local coastline really excels, is diving.

Nicknamed Shipwreck Alley, Bermuda is ringed by 200 miles of coral reefs dotted with more than 300 shipwrecks to explore.

Novice divers can still be wowed by the reef's four-eyed butterfly fish and brain corals by trying 'helmet diving' – a form of undersea exploration where you wade along the ocean floor with the aid of a 'breathing helmet'.

If you haven't brought your sea legs there's always a stroll along the old Bermuda Railway Trail to occupy you, or a horse riding trip with Spicelands Trail Rides.

Bermuda is a chain of seven main islands which form a fish-hook shape with the two main towns located at either end.

The World Heritage site of St George, with its twisting cobbled streets and forts, is Britain's second oldest settlement in the New World and contrasts with the more modern capital Hamilton – Bermuda's commercial centre.

Another highlight of any trip is Bermuda's signature dish of rum-spiced fish chowder.

In fact, the island's famous Gosling's rum is in pretty much everything here and the Dark 'n' Stormy rum cocktail is the perfect way to wash down your Bermudan experience.

As Johnny Barnes might say: "You'll love it."

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS (Jan 21 - Feb 19)

STUDYING art forms from different cultures opens up new worlds. There's never been a better time to take an overseas trip. A sexual relationship with an older individual gives life a welcome sense of stability. Best of all, your lovemaking is putting you into great shape. If it's a choice of working for a flat salary or a commission, choose the latter.

TAURUS (Apr 21 - May 21)

YOU'RE very good at attending the needs of the public. You could find great success working at a restaurant, hotel, or catering firm. It's possible you're falling for someone who is much younger or older than you. You're ready to assume the additional responsibility. Moving to a new neighbourhood could also be in the cards.

LEO (July 24 - Aug 23)

AN ideal lover could enter your life this week. If you're already in a relationship, this would be a wonderful week to visit a nearby beauty spot. Even a short trip away will rekindle your passion for one another. A serious job gives you the money to afford extra luxuries. Working behind the scenes could be especially profitable.

SCORPIO (Oct 24 - Nov 22)

THIS is a good week to deal with hospital, religious, or cultural institutions. If you're thinking of buying a home, you could get financial support from such an organisation. You could really benefit from an old friend's experience. Don't be afraid to propose a bold fund-raising idea at a group meeting. A suitor sends your self-esteem into the stratosphere.

PISCES (Feb 20 - Mar 20)

CULTIVATING your sex appeal will be a labour of love. If you're looking for romance, you could find it at a political rally or business convention. Keep your eyes open for someone who is much older or younger than you. The two of you may share the same tastes. Expressing your creative side could inspire you to take a trip overseas.

GEMINI (May 22 - Jun 22)

STUDYING religion, photography, or dance could give you a sexy glow. You've been blessed with considerable creative talent, and fostering it underscores your allure. Go ahead and spend a little more than you had planned; your investment will pay off sooner than you think and your prospects for getting a raise are very strong right now.

VIRGO (Aug 24 - Sep 23)

IF YOU'RE offered a job, don't be afraid to negotiate a higher salary. You can get more money if you make a compelling argument. Projecting an air of elegant sophistication attracts favourable attention, both on the personal and professional fronts. Getting involved with a humanitarian organisation underscores your sexual allure.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23 - Dec 21)

WORKING as a member of a team is the best way to realise your humanitarian ideals. Take care to project a attractive image when making a public presentation. If you're not sure what to wear, enlist the aid of a stylish Libra or Pisces. Assert your sexual needs or they may never be met. Fortunately, you're not shy about your desires.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr 20)

YOU'VE got wonderful instincts with regard to a lover's needs. Take this opportunity to encourage their creative talent. If you're single keep your eye open for a shy person with traditional tastes. Don't be afraid to be the aggressor in this relationship. Looking for a job? You could find one related to journalism, research, or analysis.

CANCER (Jun 23 - Jul 23)

YOU could receive a gift of money or valuable family heirloom from a generous relative. Take this opportunity to pare down your schedule to only those activities that are necessary or enjoyable. If you cross paths with a romantic interest, be sure to ask for their phone number or email address. Playing the aggressor feels wonderfully liberating.

LIBRA (Sep 24 - Oct 23)

YOU'LL have the pick of the litter as far as admirers are concerned. When it comes to choosing a suitor, you would be wise to pick the dreamy-eyed artistic type who is a little bit shy. The two of you could enjoy some blissful quiet evenings together. Go after a high profile job with an impressive salary.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22 - Jan 20)

YOU'VE got great instincts when it comes to making money. If you'd like to make a career change, think about going back to school for art, history, geography or sociology. Getting a degree could put you on a whole new path. You could also find love at an educational institution. Keep your eyes open for someone who is assertive, yet nurturing.

Brian's killer moves just not up to scratch

■ BY GEMMA QUADE

HE was first to be booted off this year's Strictly Come Dancing and admitted he was rejected for ballroom lessons as a child – so just where does Brian Capron go now?

"Yes, it's true, I was rejected from ballroom dancing lessons when I was 11," said Brian, otherwise known as Corrie serial killer Richard Hillman.

"My mum wanted me to do the lessons and I got paired with this rather nice 15-year-old girl who thought I was a horrible, greasy-haired nincompoop. After three lessons it all fell apart!"

With this admission, you might wonder why on Earth Brian agreed to take part in this year's Strictly Come Dancing.

Despite having been to drama school, 60-year-old Brian insists he has steered clear of tripping the light fantastic ever since that first foray as a schoolboy. So how come he changed his mind?

"Well, all my friends and relatives seem to absolutely love the programme, and out of all these so-called reality shows it seems to be the one with a genuine challenge," he said.

But the judges hated him – and his professional dance partner Karen Hardy, who was last year's winner with cricket star Mark Ramprakash.

Brian and Karen were slammed and called 'wooden' for their Godfather-themed waltz.

This week a smiling Brian said he thought they were just trying to find fault and they completely missed the irony in the serious, Mafia-style dress and facial expressions the couple chose.

The flip side is that he and Karen have both

MURDER ON THE DANCEFLOOR: Ex Corrie star Brian Capron failed to impress the Strictly Come Dancing judges landed roles as pundits and commentators for the remainder of the series, so they will be there until the end.

Brian had hoped to show people there was more to him than the evil killer in Corrie (or the Grange Hill teacher remembered by most 30-somethings).

"If I had been in for long enough, I think people would have seen I'm a little bit different," he said.

Of course, it's well known that most women find a man who can throw some shapes on the dance floor extremely attractive, and Brian's wife Jackie is delighted with her husband's new skills. But their son, 11-year-old Louis, wasn't quite so keen – Brian says he's not sure ballroom dancing is quite cool enough to get the seal of approval from him.

"My little boy is actually a very good break-dancer, so that's another reason I wanted to do it, to get one over on him," he said.

Now he won't get the chance, of course, and there is a part of him that sympathises with Karen, last year's winner.

"I thought, bloody hell, she's drawn the short straw. But after a time you just put that out of your mind. It's an old cliché, but you just take one week at a time and do the best you can."

Despite being in pretty good shape for a 60-year-old, Brian admitted he struggled with the gruelling training schedule – dancing for at least four hours every day for weeks.

"I'm the only person I know who has never been to a gym in their life. During training you're sweating and you're breathless and you want to stop because you can't do any more, and also your feet and your legs ache so much at night. I wish I hadn't given away that foot-bath I used to have!"

Singing guinea pig

Brilliant video of Chubby the guinea pig, who would give any X Factor contestant a run for their money.

George is seen in his back garden, singing a song called Guinea Pig by heavy metal band Fear 44.

It was filmed and produced by Alex Roscow from Rochester and looks set to become a favourite on Yourkenttv.co.uk.

Alex, 25, runs his own video production company Mosh Productions and is a bit of an expert on the Apple Mac.

He said: "It just seemed like a good idea. Fear 44 is a half-male, half-female hard rock metal band from Maryland in the United States."

Take a look under music or pets to see the little white creature go where no cavy has gone before.

THE KINGSDOWN BAND: The band was formed when Terry Poulson and Roger Cramphorn met at a Kingsdown School function in 1989 and discovered they had both played through the 60s and, notably, both performed at the legendary Top Ten Club and Star Club in Hamburg during that period.

Neither having picked up a guitar for some years, it seemed like a good idea to get together. Two other members were added and a four-piece 60s band was formed.

The Kingsdown Band was the obvious choice for the name, as three of the four guys lived in Kingsdown village. They were fortunate to live in and around Deal as there were several excellent brass musicians in the area, having settled there after leaving the Royal Marines, and a three-piece brass section was added some years later.

After several personnel changes along the way, they now have probably the best line-up the band have ever had and their numbers have swelled to nine musicians.

They are in great demand for weddings and perform a vast range of music covering all decades, from the 60s to the present day.

In recent months the band entertained large crowds at the Picnic On The Green, at the Deal Memorial Bandstand, for Walmer Parish Council and at the Faversham Hop Festival.

They are also playing at Covent Garden in London next month.

See them at Yourkenttv.co.uk and you can visit www.thekingsdownband.com, where you can see a full profile of the band.

Charity wild at Dr Martin

WILDLIFE conservation experts at a local animal park have branded producers of top ITV drama Doc Martin 'irresponsible' after a recent episode said badgers could infect humans with tuberculosis (TB).

Bosses at Wildwood, between Canterbury and Herne Bay, were left incensed by the claims and have even called for the producer of the show, Philippa Braithwaite – wife of its star Martin Clunes – to be sacked.

The episode featured a mum and her child burning a badger on a bonfire which they thought had contracted bovine TB.

The charity, which runs the 40-acre animal park, claimed the distressing scene wrongly assumes all badgers carried the deadly virus.

Trust chief executive Peter Smith said less than one per cent of cases of human TB can be traced to cattle – which can catch TB from badgers.

■ BY KEVIN O'SULLIVAN

He said: "It is entirely irresponsible to allow these types of storylines to go uncontested.

"It doesn't matter if it is the wife of a famous TV actor who produces the show, we still want her to resign.

"The message they were promoting – that badgers are the main cause of deadly bovine TB – is simply wrong."

Mr Smith said the trust had received 20 emails from worried parents whose children had visited the animal sanctuary within 24 hours of the show being aired.

He said: "This message is simply wrong and it will scare future generations of children unnecessarily.

"We have school parties to our wildlife park all the time and it is grossly irresponsible of the producers to insinuate that badgers are the cause of TB."

The strong protest from the wildlife experts is backed by a government report from DEFRA which earlier this year suspended the culling of badgers.

The move followed confirmation by scientists that there is absolutely no proof mass slaughtering led to a reduction of cows being infected by TB.

A spokesman for the show said: "All our story lines are thoroughly researched before filming begins.

"And we have a GP to advise on medical issues to ensure authenticity and accuracy.

"With regard to this particular episode the character of the doctor does actually stress that the chance of a human contracting tuberculosis from a cat or badger is very rare, and that it was conjecture rather than a confirmed diagnosis."

DR MARTIN: Wildlife experts call for the resignation of the hit show's producer... who is Martin Clunes' wife

Get ready for rare Fright Night

A LEADING animal centre is promising visitors zombie attacks, and terror trailer rides as it prepares to frighten and entertain in its upcoming Halloween Fear and Fun Nights.

The Rare Breeds Centre in Woodchurch, near Ashford, is staging a string of fright nights between October 24-27, to build on the success of last year.

Event manager Julie O'Neill said: "Last year was the first time we held the show and the reaction and feedback from the public was incredible, even visitors that have returned in the summer have been asking about it."

The event includes a glow-lit walk through a 'Forbidden Forest'.

Mrs O'Neill said: "The walk itself can take up to 20 minutes in daytime but at night, by torchlight it can take a lot longer. This is not an event for the faint hearted."

Visitors must bring a torch and are advised to wear wellies or boots and dress for the weather. The Halloween events run from 5.30pm to 10pm.

PROPERTY NEWS

'Northern hot-spots' are closing the divide

THE traditional North-South divide in the current property climate is closing, according to a market expert, with the number of house-buyers moving out of the South East on the rise.

David Bexon, managing director of SmartNewHomes.com, said: "The North-South divide has long been a contested area of debate in the property market.

"However, our latest monthly index reflects the trend of a narrowing gap, with northern hot-spots proving the most popular with new home-buyers and driving up prices.

"Strong inward migration has been recorded, 3.8 per cent in the North and 1.3 per cent in the North West, compared with contrasting outward migration in the South of -4.6 per cent in the South East and -9.5 per cent in London.

"However, despite continued outward migration in the south, generally with an annual price fall of 15.3 per cent in London, it remains the most expensive location to buy a new home.

"The average new home in the South East will cost a new home-buyer 26 per cent more – £310,828, compared with an average of £228,784 in the North West."

Tracker and variable are most popular mortgages

CONSUMERS are confident in their financial security and believe that interest rates have now peaked, according to a new survey.

The Spicerhaart Financial Services monthly survey says that as the Bank of England announced the decision to hold the base rate in the wake of the credit crunch, the percentage of borrowers opting for variable mortgages increased for the third consecutive month.

According to the survey, the proportion of variable mortgages rose to 21 per cent in September, up from 19 per cent in August. Tracker mortgages in particular are becoming increasingly popular and are at their highest percentage this year, with 19 per cent of borrowers choosing them; this figure is 13 per cent higher than at the same time last year.

Although fixed-rate products continue to dominate, with 79 per cent of borrowers opting for these in September, two-year fixed rates have fallen for the second month to 48 per cent. The proportion of borrowers opting for longer-term fixed-rate mortgages, of between seven to 25 years, remain relatively stable.

But what about the first-time buyers, Darling?

NO CHANGE: Some professionals in the property field have criticised Chancellor Alistair Darling's decision not to reform stamp duty which, they say, would help first-time buyers

GOOD, bad or indifferent? There has been a starkly mixed reaction to Chancellor Alistair Darling's pre-Budget report, announced last week.

The two issues to provoke the greatest comment were the lack of stamp duty reform and the raising of the inheritance tax threshold.

Robert Bryant-Pearson, chief executive of Allied Surveyors – the country's largest independent firm of chartered surveyors – said: "I am both surprised and frustrated that stamp duty did not feature in the pre-Budget report.

"The current stamp duty system is insufficient and seriously flawed, and the Government has missed an opportunity to revolutionise the system by scrapping existing threshold triggers.

"I firmly believe that the first £200,000 of any property sale should be free of duty and thereafter a single fixed rate should be payable, but importantly only on the amount over £200,000.

"It is ridiculous that currently in a sale at £250,000, the purchaser pays £2,500 in stamp duty, but at £250,001 this rockets to £7,500 because the next three per cent band applies – not just the part above £250,000, but to the entire price."

David Bexon, managing director of SmartNewHomes.com, was equally as scathing about Mr Darling's pre-Budget report.

"The Chancellor has let down first-time buyers across the country, ignoring the potential benefits of scrapping stamp duty for those taking their first step on to the housing ladder.

"While the commitment to longer-term, fixed-rate mortgages will prove valuable in offering vulnerable buyers security, it will do nothing to ease the initial costs incurred when buying a new home.

"The Government needs to take action now and scrap stamp duty for first-time buyers if it does not wish to be responsible for their continued decline. If these buyers stay away, there is a real risk the market will go into freefall."

There was some relief for the Chancellor, however. For example, David Austin, managing director of Property for Life, a property investment consultancy, was pleased to see a higher inheritance tax threshold.

He said: "We welcome Labour's pledge to raise the inheritance tax threshold for couples to £700,000 by 2010. While the majority of buy-to-let investors with a portfolio of properties will not benefit immediately from this change, millions of people are set to be better off financially in the medium to long term."

Buckey & Ward

Estate Agents and Residential Lettings

“The whole process of buying and selling should be as smooth and stress free as possible and we go that extra mile to achieve this”.

Buckey & Ward are Sittingbourne's longest established Estate Agency and Residential Lettings company. The business was started in 1968 on the corner of West Street and William Street by Brian Buckey and Ian Ward.

In 1995 the company changed hands and was sold to Ian Seager who runs the sales department along with Sue Melloy. The Residential Lettings Department was re-launched to take advantage of a rejuvenated lettings market, and is enjoying unprecedented success.

Ian has enjoyed dealing with property and land all over the county, from paddocks to rambling estates, from studio flats to new development sites.

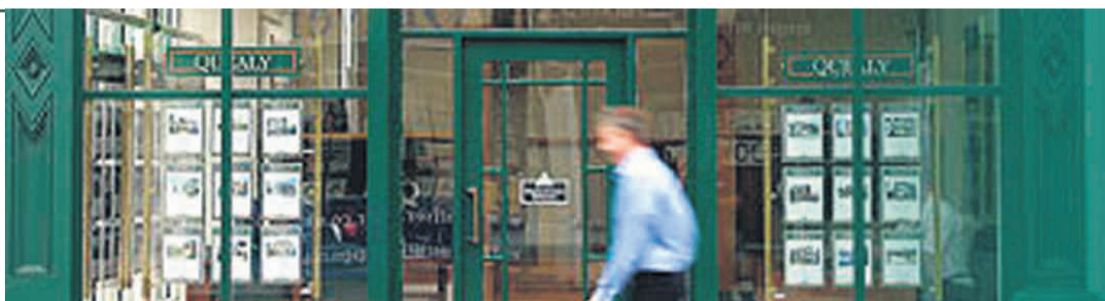

Our philosophy is to treat people as we would wish to be treated, and to be straight talking and honest.

“The whole process of buying and selling should be as smooth and stress free as possible and we go that extra mile to achieve this”.

We are always interested in hearing from you – whether it be questions, comments or requests for more information.

MOTORS NEWS

Advance demands for Mercedes load lugger

MERCEDES-BENZ Kent says orders are rolling in for the new C-Class Estate, although the model is not due in Britain until next spring.

The car group, with sites at Ashford, Canterbury, Maidstone and Tonbridge, has already done brisk business with the saloon version – rated highly by MotorsTV's Steve Loader.

The estate is also tipped to do well, thanks to an impressive 1,500-litre load capacity, some 145 litres more than the previous car.

Other tempting features include the 'Easy-Pack' tailgate, which opens and closes at the touch of a button, stowage compartments with net covers, bag hooks, rings for anchoring loads and a collapsible shopping crate.

LDV dealer adds to presence in county

LDV dealer Channel Commercials has a new dealership at Medway City Estate in Strood, joining existing sites at Ashford, Sevenoaks and Aylesham.

Some £250,000 was spent on refurbishing the outlet and the group's fleet sales director Paul Taylor is pictured celebrating the opening with Caroline Wall, LDV's fleet business manager.

The Strood site sells new and used LDV models – including vans, minibuses and the forthcoming MAXUS chassis cab range – and offers MOT testing and 24-hours-a-day servicing to help keep van operators on the road.

Auto firm highlights case for 'hi-vis' vests

AWARD-winning Gravesend-based auto products firm, Comma, has proved that pedestrians are four times safer when wearing a high-visibility vest.

The research, in partnership with Auto Express magazine, was part of Comma's campaign at www.safeandseen.co.uk to cut the 250 deaths and serious injuries on our motorway hard shoulders every year.

Mat Watson of Auto Express said: "Most drivers wouldn't consider carrying a high-vis vest in their car, incorrectly assuming they will be perfectly visible to passing motorists without one."

ULTRA-GREEN: Volkswagen Polo Bluemotion averages 70mpg and emits 20 per cent less CO₂ than its standard equivalent

VW a quick step ahead of slow motion solutions

WHILE the industry grapples with grandiose long-term answers to the waste, pollution and CO₂ emissions of cars, VW has just launched a clever stopgap.

So impressive, yet relatively simple, is the ultra-green VW Polo Bluemotion (from £11,995) – first of several Bluemotion VWs – that you ask why the approach has not been tried before.

But it has; VW produced a miser's Mark II Polo in 1983 known as the Formel E – E for economy. The German giant also produced a Lupo city car in 1999 averaging 90+mpg.

The common denominator is higher gear ratios for optimum fuel consumption.

It's not rocket science and nor are other features enabling the Bluemotion to average 70mpg with ease and emit 20 per cent less CO₂ than its standard equivalent.

Better streamlining – a re-worked grille and front end, smaller door mirrors and a rear spoiler – also make this Polo more economical and quieter on the motorway.

Weight has been pared away too, notably through light yet elegant spoked alloys; returning to key-only central locking and by deleting air-con on the entry-level Bluemotion 1 to save weight, engine power and emissions.

These could have been slashed further by axing power steering, but unassisted parking on modern superminis calls for superhuman muscles, so VW lightened the system and, consequently, the drain on engine and economy.

The steering can feel 'distant', but road-going rally types won't buy this car anyway, especially when they note the harder compound, higher profile tyres for lower rolling resistance – great for economy, but not for hugging bends.

But think of the demand from company car users. Further tweaks should not only make the Bluemotion eligible for zero road tax, but exempt from the London congestion charge.

And you don't have to suffer for helping the planet; the Polo is a decent drive and does not feel gutless even with the higher ratio five-speed 'box.

It also has all the practicalities and virtues of a normal Polo: space, build quality and the extra status that comes with that badge.

USED CAR ROUND-UP: OUR PICK FROM A KEY SECTOR

DISTINCTIVE MIDI-MPVs

IN 1997, Renault tried a bit of lateral thinking with the 'people carrier' concept it pioneered with the Espace and came up with the 'midi' or 'compact' MPV (multi-purpose vehicle). The result was the original five-seat Scenic, the blueprint for even more vehicles than the original Espace inspired, and the impetus for waves of tall, space efficient 'MPV styling' across the whole car market. As one of the new car market's boom sectors over the past few years, it means there is also plenty of choice for user car buyers.

FIAT MULTIPLA

EARNING top marks with the motoring press for originality when it arrived in 2000, the original Multipla proved simply too wacky looking to generate the sales it deserved. A facelift made it more visually acceptable and its practical qualities began to shine. Relatively compact, it allows six to be seated comfortably and there is plenty of stowage space.

CITROEN XSARA PICASSO

NO apologies for including the Picasso – it quickly trumped Renault's pioneering Scenic to become the best-seller in the new sector. It's only a five-seater, but the 'jelly mould design' smooths the edges of a commodious and flexibly equipped box. The range features excellent turbodiesels and has a good reliability record. Plenty of choice on the used market too.

HONDA FR-V

THOUGH late into this sector, Honda had time to review the market and decided that Fiat got it right with the Multipla. So the FR-V is another short, wide six-seater with two rows of seats, but not as roomy as the Fiat. Buyers like the peace of mind Honda's engineering gives and how the dash-mounted gearshift creates room in front.

JOB TITLE:
Board Member Vacancies
LOCATION:
Whitstable
SALARY:
TBA
COMPANY:
Canterbury City Council
Can you help to shape the future of Whitstable Harbour? Appointment of independent board members Whitstable Harbour lies at the heart of the attractive north Kent town of Whitstable, overlooking the Thames Estuary. The Harbour Board was set up by the Council in 2003 to deliver a strategy for developing the harbour as a self-contained operation offering both high quality marine commercial and leisure facilities. The Harbour is a working operation comprising a basin of 0.61 hectares capable of accepting vessels of up to 3,000 tonnes. There are three quays totalling 470 metres in length together with 4 hectares of adjacent land. In 2006/07 the harbour handled over 97,000 tonnes of cargo (mainly aggregates) from 92 ships and it also has an active commercial fishing fleet. In recent years an increasing number of leisure uses have become established to complement the commercial activities and the combination has provided a vibrant focus in the town for both businesses and visitors. For the first time in many years the operation made an overall operational profit in 2006/07. The Harbour Board, which has been acknowledged as a model of best practice, comprises both elected councillors and co-opted independent members. The term of service of two of the co-opted members will finish in January 2008 and applications are invited for replacement members for a term of three years. Applicants must have an interest in public service and be committed to developing the harbour as a financially self-supporting operation while balancing potentially conflicting demands. Proven skills in marine operations, property development or finance will be particularly welcome. There are nine board meetings a year together with occasional working groups as required. Board members receive a modest allowance and appropriate expenses will be reimbursed. We expect to hold interviews in the week commencing 12 November 2007. BUSINESS BRIEFS

Entrepreneurial goings-on at breakfast time

MIKE Southon, author of best-selling business book The Beermat Entrepreneur, is the guest speaker at a business breakfast in Chatham next Wednesday.

The MoCo Business Breakfast event, organised by the Kent branch of the Institute of Directors (IoD), will let delegates learn how to stay ahead of the opposition.

The IoD's Frazer Thompson said: "This is a chance to be inspired. Mike is an energetic keynote speaker who will offer a humorous insight into the mindset of a serial entrepreneur."

It takes place at Bridgewood Manor in Walderslade Woods, Chatham on October 24 from 7.30am.

New course designed for budding businesses

ENTREPRENEURS in the county thinking of starting a social enterprise will be the first in the country to benefit from a new specially designed course.

Organised by Business Link, the free workshops will examine the growing phenomenon of social enterprises – businesses whose primary objective is to reinvest profits in the business or the community.

Participants will be able to explore exactly what a social enterprise is, as well as providing useful tips and practical tools to motivate attendees to begin researching, planning and developing a social enterprise.

For further information please call Business Link on 0845 600 9 006.

New units will continue park's ongoing success

KENT Science Park has been given a boost following the start of work on the first new building to be built at the Sittingbourne site in more than a decade.

The 22,600 sq ft tech units, which should be completed early 2008, will provide premises for technology tenants, as well as accommodating the expansion of existing science-based businesses.

Andrew Bull of LaSalle Investment Management, the company that manages the park, said: "The units are important to the park's ongoing success, as they will provide for companies already based here and one's wishing to relocate here."

WAITING AROUND: New laws introduced last October have seen one in five employees delay their planned retirement, with many firms keen to help keep these workers on the books

More and more put off retirement date

EMPLOYEES across the county are starting to take advantage of new laws allowing them to postpone their retirement, according to a recent survey.

The new regulations, introduced last October, have seen one in five employees quizzed pushing back their traditional retirement plan, the CBI and business services firm Watson Wyatt survey says.

CBI South East regional director Malcolm Hyde said: "Encouraging the new right to request postponed retirement seems to be working well and both employers and staff value this flexibility."

"Firms want to retain employee skills and experience, while staff can enjoy a phased retirement, or can continue working flexibly to boost retirement savings.

"However, this early success is founded on the company's ability to have a final say on an individual's retirement date."

Twenty-two per cent of employees approaching retirement asked for it to be postponed and companies granted almost three quarters (72 per cent) of these requests.

More employees are expected to request postponement and the proportion of firms offering a range of options, including full and part-time work at retirement, has increased since 2006.

Half of employers surveyed nationwide offered the option to continue full-time employment, and 44 per cent allowed employees to continue working while drawing a pension, up from only 24 per cent last year. One in five employers (21 per cent) allowed phased retirement, an increase on 16 per cent last year.

The survey also revealed South East companies remain committed to providing pensions for staff, even though the high cost of funding final salary schemes is damaging business competitiveness and investment.

Mr Hyde said: "Businesses are determined to help provide a decent retirement for their staff and see a good pension scheme as a big advantage when recruiting. It is encouraging that staff and businesses are seeing contribution schemes as a valuable vehicle for retirement savings, and that contributions from firms are rising. But too much money is left by staff not joining a pension scheme, or failing to take their company up on its highest level of contribution."

Bad day at the office for Anchs

WHAT a difference a week makes for Gillingham Anchorians Ladies first team, who put in a lacklustre performance against Waltham Forest and were duly punished with a 3-0 defeat.

Anchs were a different side to the one which beat Gore Court the previous week and put themselves under pressure with some poor passing and weak tackling.

The game was goalless in the first half but after the break, Forest opened the scoring from a short corner.

Sarah Inwood and Lou Barrett worked hard in midfield but Anchs never got into their stride and Forest rattled in another two without reply to leave the Gillingham girls ruing a disappointing performance.

Iffy Onoura hints after the Millwall game it will be his last in charge

Hol ladies put in fine team effort

HOLCOMBE against Old Loughtonians was a clash of the two promoted sides from last season.

Holcombe went into the game with a 100 per cent league record and they prepared well for a tough game.

They started positively and after a good spell of early pressure, Jennie Hoyte gave them an early lead after a superb cross from Natalie Goldring.

Holcombe's midfield of Lara Hoadley, Anna Reutersward and Cheryl Lee, linked well with the forwards, and gained 11 short-corners in the first half. After a great goal from Candice Forward, Jennie Hoyte made it 3-0 at half-time.

Holcs played a composed game in the second half. The defence did well to keep a clean sheet and excellent saves from goal-keeper Jackie Gray kept them in the game.

Holcombe were unable to convert any pressure into goals in the second half, but a 3-0 win was a great team performance.

Dickson strike fails to send Iffy off with win

A CHRIS Dickson wonder strike was not enough to give the Gills all three points in a hard-fought derby at the Priestfield Stadium.

In what was Iffy Onoura's last game in charge of the club, Gillingham came out all guns blazing, to banish the ghosts of last weekend's 5-0 horror show at Swindon Town.

Onoura gave a league debut to on-loan striker Dickson and fresh from a midweek hat-trick against Luton Town, he did not disappoint.

His first sniff of goal came in the 10th minute, when he found space 20 yards from Rab Douglas' goal, but his shot was hit straight at the Scottish keeper.

It was the sign of things to come for the Gills, as Dickson made the breakthrough in the 15th minute. He made his way into the box and a delightful chip between defenders Richard Shaw and Paul Robinson left him one-on-one with the keeper.

He duly dispatched a stunning left-foot volley past the stranded Douglas to give the Gills a deserved lead and his fourth goal in two games.

Gillingham 1 Millwall 1

Dickson and the hard-working Delroy Facey, continued to cause the Millwall defence problems and it was the on-loan striker from Charlton, who almost put the Gills 2-0 up, but Douglas raced out to clear.

After a frenetic start, Gillingham seemed to run out of steam and allowed Millwall back into the game.

They had a string of half chances before the half-time interval, but on 40 minutes Millwall's Will Hoskins had the miss of the game.

A good cross into the Gills' box was met by an unmarked Hoskins, but he somehow managed to miss the ball – only four yards from Royce's goal.

Onoura's last team talk in charge did not appear to have the desired effect on his side, as they came out of the blocks quite sluggish and invited pressure from Millwall.

However, it was Gillingham that came closest to scoring, when the impressive Dickson left Millwall's caretaker manager Shaw for dead and made his way into the Lions' box, before unleashing a shot which hit the post and rolled agonisingly across the goal line and wide.

Millwall made the Gills pay for the missed opportunity when on 62 minutes Alan Dunne got the last touch to a good move for the equaliser.

Surprisingly, rather than pushing on for the win, Millwall took their foot off the gas and seemed to be happy to take the draw.

The Gills pressed on and in a last throw of the dice, Onoura put all four forwards on when he introduced Gary Mulligan and Dave Graham.

However, apart from shouts of handball as Shaw appeared to clear using a hand, chances were few and far between.

Efe Sodje had the last attempt on goal with a header from a corner, but he could not keep his effort on target and the Gills had to be content with a draw.

UP FOR IT: Medway Rugby battle past Dartfordians in EDF Energy Vase

Vase win for dogged Medway

DREAMS of playing at Twickenham in the final of the EDF Energy Vase are still alive for Medway Rugby Club, as they sprang a surprise win over Dartfordians.

Medway started the game the stronger of the two sides and immediately were superior up front, with the forwards winning the ball in the scrum.

It was Medway who opened the scoring through Rob Longstaff, who successfully kicked a penalty to give Medway the lead.

The pack were missing the significant figure of Nick Head as he had to go off due to a head injury, so young 18-year-old prop Dean Morris stepped in.

RUGBY

Medway 20 Dartfordians 7

Sheer determination allowed Medway to play the rugby they wanted in the first half.

Dartfordians were caught collapsing a scrum, which gave Medway the chance to increase their lead and Longstaff converted the opportunity.

Medway increased their score minutes later with a try of their own, coming from a well-worked move between their backs, finishing with Danny Williams passing to Dane Glassey, who scored under the posts.

Longstaff added the extras to give Medway a 13-0 with five minutes to go until half-time.

On the stroke of half-time, the side a league above Medway, came back and scored a try, when their winger received the ball and sprinted over the line.

In the second half, Medway continued where they had left off and continued to attack Dartfordians.

The game was sealed when an up and under kick was gathered by young winger Bobby Ellis, who went over for another try under the posts.

Coach Taff Gwilliam said: "I was delighted with the win. A very young side showed exactly what they can do if they get a chance to play."

Improving Chats storm past Police

FOOTBALL

BY YOURMEDWAY REPORTER

Chatham Town 2 Metropolitan Police 0

CHATHAM maintained their improved form with a fine win over Metropolitan Police.

They put their opponents under the cosh from the start, with Gavin Schulz' near-post flick nearly snatching an early advantage.

The first goal came after 10 minutes when Tom Davey was given time to raid down the left wing. His deep cross found Mark Brooks at the back post and his set-up was put away first time by Matt Solly.

A fine through ball then gave Shane Suter a free run in on goal, but a good block from Mo Maan prevented him putting Chats further in the clear.

Cautions for Mark Brooks and Rob Goodger did little to halt Chatham's attacking intent, and it was the latter who made it 2-0 in the 33rd minute.

Darren Smith lifted a free-kick into the box from the left touchline and Goodger's run left him unhindered to volley home from just outside the six-yard box.

The visitors were only able to test John Whitehouse once, when he was forced to divert Andy Oxby's shot round the far post.

Both sides struggled to unlock the opposition's defence in the second half.

Chris Tedder made an excellent last-ditch tackle to keep out Chris Meikle and Schulz shot just over the bar after a good run and cross by Justin Ascheri. Chatham were not going to let three valuable points get away and did an effective job to preserve a clean sheet in the closing stages.

Chatham played Dover on Monday night before entertaining Witham Town in the FA Trophy on Saturday.

ON TARGET: Chats midfielder Matt Solly opened the scoring against the police with a first-time effort

Mos ram-raided by Essex boys

WELL BEATEN: Dynamos had hoped to bounce back from Slough thrashing

THE Invicta Dynamos travelled to Essex to take on the Romford Raiders hoping to put last week's heavy defeat against the Slough Jets firmly behind them.

Andy Smith flew into the Romford zone and almost gave the visitors the lead before Ken Forshee forced a save from Graeme Bird in the Romford net.

The pressure finally cracked on 14 minutes, when Andy Smith faked a shot before dragging to the right and finishing with aplomb, sending the Mo's fans crazy.

The lead barely lasted two minutes in the second period, as Danny Hammond scored his first of the game from the top of the circle to bring the home team level.

It was only a matter of time before the Raiders found a way past Rowlands and a cross from Danny Marshall was redirected by Hammond to put the Raiders in front.

Only five minutes later, they extended their lead as Joel Petkoff deservedly got himself on the score-sheet with a sublime finish.

The Mos kept working hard and got their reward on 39 minutes when Smith threw the puck across the front of the net to Anthony Leone who flipped a backhand shot into the roof of the net.

The final period couldn't have started any better when after 16 seconds Peter Korff drew the Mos level.

Sadly, the euphoria was short lived as Hammond completed his hat-trick, before a booming slapshot from Marshall restored the home side's two-goal cushion.

Marshall scored again on 45 minutes before Romford scored their seventh through Taylor.

The final goal of the game saw Joe Allen skate down the right wing, dragging a defender with him before cutting the puck back to Kev Lake, who was trailing the play to smash home.

Croft watches Wales nightmare from bench

GILLINGHAM skipper Andrew Crofts was an unused sub in Wales' defeat against Cyprus at the weekend.

The Gills midfielder, who played against Germany at the Millennium Stadium, was named as a sub by Wales manager John Toshack but not brought on in a disappointing performance.

Crofts' team-mate James Collins scored for Wales, but Cyprus hit back with three goals after half-time. Crofts will be hoping for a place in tonight's game against San Marino.

Ladies called upon to join new five-a-side league

A NEW women's five-a-side league is being launched to encourage more adult participation in sport.

The scheme has been set up by a partnership including Medway Council Sports Development Team, the Kent County Football Association and Medway Leisure.

The games will be held at the new Kicks Soccer Centre at Strood Leisure Centre on Wednesdays, between 7pm and 9pm.

The league starts on January 9, 2008. Call 0800 988 4257 or visit www.kentfa.com.

Home comfort as sponsor agrees to kit out U14s

SPARTAC Junior Under-14s have scored themselves a new sponsor in the form of letting agent, Ashton Burkinshaw.

The Chatham branch is providing the club, who play in the Medway News Youth Division One, with a complete kit including shirts, shorts and socks.

Manager, Craig Rickwood, said: "We have a great U14s team and hope most of the boys will stay at the club for years to come and continue to enjoy their football while improving individually and as a team."

Lords crash out of cup after brace of own goals

LORDSWOOD were undone in the Kent League Premier Division Cup through two own goals.

The side from Medway, lost on Saturday 2-0 against a strong Croydon team that are just a point above Lordswood in the league.

However, an own goal in the first-half and then one again in the second half, lost the game for Lordswood.

Lordswood return to Kent Premier League action this weekend with a home fixture against Erith, kick-off is at 3pm.
